Maximum Range of Projectiles

Many range operators ask how they can figure the maximum ranges of rifles, pistols, and shotguns. An angle of elevation of 45° gives maximum range only in empty space where there is no air drag. This effect is approximated in air by very heavy projectiles of low speed and consequent low drag.

With most useful projectiles the effect is quite different. Very long range artillery is fired (or rather was, since it is no longer in use) at angles considerably above 45° for maximum range, for the advantage of getting the shell out of dense atmosphere during most of its flight. The situation with small-arms bullets is the opposite. Their whole flight must be in dense air, which shortens their maximum range to only a tiny fraction of what it would be without drag. This also has the affect that maximum range is obtained at only 25° to 30° elevation. There is very little range change between 20° and 33° elevation. Depending on the bullet, the range of small arms at only 5° elevation is from half to two-thirds the maximum range. This illustrates how little safety is provided by merely limiting the angle of elevation at which firing is done.

Bullet Name	Bullet wt. (grs.)	Muzzle Vel. (f.p.s.)	Ballistic Coefficient	Cal. .22 long rifle		Percent of max vacuum range
				Extreme Range (yds.)	(miles)
	40	1145	.128
	1500	.85	12%
Cal. .380acp	95	970	.08	1089	.62	12%
Cal. .45acp	234	820	.16	1640	.93	24%
Same in submachine gun	234	970	.16	1760	1.0	21%
Cal. .30 Carbine M1	111	1970	.179	2200	1.25	6%

Cal. .30 boattail M1	172	2600	.56	5500	3.12	8%

While weight of the Cal. .30 Ball M1 is about 20grs. more than that of the Ball M2, the great difference between their maximum ranges is due almost entirely to the boattail of the M1, which markedly lessened drag at subsonic speeds and so lengthened the distance the bullet flies at low speed.

Frequently Asked Questions

GENERAL

Q: Why so many rules?

A: The rules of the association are solutions to situations that have arisen over the years. Almost all of the rules in force are common sense and are the same conventional safety rules practiced at clubs all over the country.

Q: I see there is a bulletin board in the entrance foyer to the clubhouse, who can use this & how?

A: All paid members may post any notice on the association bulletin board. Do not post anything on the board above the sign in book or in the area being used by official club notices on the large board. All postings will be removed at the end of the 2nd month from posting and any item deemed unfit for posting will be removed. Keep it neat.

GUESTS

Q: As a member, can I bring my grandchildren to the club to fish?

A: Yes, as long as they are under 18 and under your direct supervision.

Q: I just joined as a new member, and I want to bring guests. When can I start bringing guests.

A: New members are probationary for the first calendar year of membership and cannot bring guest until they have completed that first calendar year of membership without any rules infractions/violations.

RANGES

Q: Are there any restrictions as to what type of firearms may be used on the ranges?

A: You may fire any type of firearm that you can legally possess under BATF rules as long as you follow the posted rules and you use them safely. The only restriction is Class 3, full auto firearms. A special use permit must be obtained from the Executive Committee for Class 3, full auto firearms prior to firing them on the association ranges.

Q: Are there any restrictions as to rate of fire or magazine capacity for semi-autos?

A: Not currently. As long as you can fire it safely and follow the rules it is allowed.

Q: Why do I have to stay under the range cover while shooting?

A: This is part of the agreement with West Marlboro township under their ordinance no. 94-03, this is not our choice, this is local law.

Always leave the association facilities/grounds in better condition than you found them.

Frequently Asked Questions

ARCHERY

Q: Do I have to go to the clubhouse to sign in if I'm only using the outdoor archery range?

A: Yes, All members & their invited guests must sign in/out each and every time they enter/exit the association property.

CAMPING

Q: I want to use the camping area, can I bring my 40 Foot motor coach?

A: We really don't have the space or the facilities for something that size, our camping area is setup more for tents & maybe a small popup camper at most.

MEMBERSHIP

Q: When my membership expires on Sept 30th, how do I renew?

A: Renewal invoices are emailed at least 60 days before memberships expire. Memberships must be renewed online before September 15th. Late renewals will not be accepted after September 15th.

Q: I failed to renew by September 15th, and my membership expired September 30th. I need to sight in my rifle for deer season. Can I just go to the range, sight it in and send in my renewal when I get time.

A: No, If you failed to renew by September 15th, you must reapply for membership, You may not use the association facilities without a current membership card.

Q: As a member, does my spouse get a card & can he/she come to the club by themselves?

A: No. Your spouse can get a card only after joining as a spouse and attending the new member orientation. Otherwise, your spouse would require a guest pass and have to be supervised and accompanied by a member.

Always leave the association facilities/grounds in better condition than you found them.
